Good afternoon, Participating MPA Directors,

The MPA site chairs have received an email from Richard Holmes with several important reminders regarding sight reading that we need to share with you.

Please review the following notes carefully as you prepare your students:

1. Instrumentation & Percussion Assignments
   In the sight-reading document, there is a list of instruments included in each piece. Please be sure that before arriving at MPA, you have assigned percussion parts so your percussionists know exactly what they will be playing when they enter the sight-reading room.

2. Wind Part Splits
   Please review and plan for any part splits ahead of time. For example, if there are only two clarinet parts and a student is assigned to Clarinet 3 in your band, you should already know whether that student will cover Clarinet 1 or 2, and how any additional clarinet players will be assigned. This applies to all sections as needed.

3. Sight-Reading Level Reminder
   As a reminder, we are now sight reading the same level that your ensemble is registered to perform. Prior to 2024, ensembles sight read one level below, but that is no longer the case. For best preparation, you should practice sight reading at your ensemble's current MPA level with your students.

4. Sight-Reading Music Access
   I am providing a link to all of the sight-reading music that the Eastern District has purchased and that I have scanned. This is intended strictly for preparation purposes.

5. Sight-Reading Script
   I am also including the official sight-reading script. Please take time to review it and consider reading it to your students so they understand what to expect and are familiar with the procedures and rules before entering the room.

Thank you for your attention to these details and for helping make the sight-reading process as smooth and efficient as possible for everyone. Please feel free to reach out if you have any questions.
